Welcome!

Let this booklet guide you on your journey to good health! The tips, suggestions, and recipes contained here will give you the tools to get started today! You have the power to create healthy lifestyle habits, which will benefit you and your family for a lifetime.

So Let's Go!

A good place to start is to practice 5-2-1-0 everyday!

5 or more fruits & vegetables

2 hours or less recreational screen time*

1 hour or more of physical activity

0 sugary drinks, more water & low fat milk

*Keep TV/Computer out of the bedroom. No screen time under the age of 2.

Table of Contents

- 1. Healthy Lifestyle Tips1
- 2. Meal Planning Tips & Ideas5

Healthy Lifestyle Tips

Be a Role Model... It's as easy as 5-2-1-0

- 5 OR MORE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES
- Try new fruits & vegetables with your family.
 - Reach for fruits & vegetables when it's snack time.
 - Add fruits to cereal, pancakes, and other breakfast foods.
- 2 HOURS OR LESS RECREATIONAL SCREEN TIME*
- Limit yourself to two hours or less of screen time daily.
 - Turn off the TV and encourage the family to spend time together.
- 1 HOUR OR MORE OF PHYSICAL ACTIVITY
- Fit physical activity into your day before or after work.
 - Get a workout by playing with your kids.
- 0 SUGARY DRINKS, MORE WATER & LOW FAT MILK
- Have a pitcher of water or milk on the table at all family meals.
 - Give each family member a water bottle to take to work or school.

*Keep TV/Computer out of the bedroom. No screen time under the age of 2.

TIPS TO MAKE IT EASIER:

- Start by making small changes.
- Encourage the whole family to embrace a healthy lifestyle.
- You are your child's number one role model, so start practicing the healthy habits you want your child to use.

Increase Your Activity Level and Get Up and Go!

- If you can, walk or bike to your destination.
- Get off the bus a stop or two early and walk the rest of the distance.
- Park at the end of the parking lot.
- Take the stairs whenever possible.
- Get the whole family involved in an activity.

TIPS TO MAKE IT EASIER:

- You can choose how you get an hour of physical activity—you can break up the time throughout your day or put in an hour at the beginning or end of your day.
- Incorporate physical activity into your daily routines.
- Make gradual changes to increase your level of physical activity.
- Try tracking your level of physical activity using a pedometer.
- Keep physical activity fun!!!

Limiting TV Time

You can help your child develop positive TV habits. To get started, try some of these ideas:

- Set family guidelines for age-appropriate shows.
- Set limits on the amount of time your child spends in front of a screen (TV, computer, game boy, etc); less than two hours a day is recommended.
- Help your child plan television viewing in advance.
- At mealtimes, turn off the TV.
- Consider removing the TV/computer from the room where your child sleeps.
- Try making one day a week a “No TV Day” in your home.
- Make a list of fun activities to do instead of sitting in front of the screen.

SAMPLE SCREEN-FREE ACTIVITIES:

- Puzzles
- Play board games
- Dancing
- Play ball (basketball, catch, soccer, etc.)
- Walk, run, or jog
- Ride a bike

Meal Planning Tips & Ideas

The Importance of Family Meals

In such a busy world, it is often difficult for families to sit down together for meals. On the other hand, children who eat regularly with their family are more likely to eat fruits, vegetables, and whole grains, so make family meals a priority.

TIPS:

- Choose a time when everyone can enjoy at least one meal together—it may be breakfast, lunch, or dinner.
- Include your children in preparing the meal.
- Gather around the table for a meal and turn off the TV.
- Keep the conversation fun and easy at mealtime.
- Help your child learn good manners and mealtime behaviors.

Meal Planning Made Easy!

Use the FIVE FOOD GROUPS to help you choose foods that are good for you.

- Select foods from at least three food groups for breakfast.
- Select foods from each of the five food groups at most lunch and dinner meals.
- Select snacks from at least one of the food groups.

Five Food Groups

SUGGESTIONS FOR HEALTHY CHOICES:

1. DAIRY or Dairy Substitute: Choose low fat milk (skim or 1%), low fat or nonfat yogurt, cheese, or calcium-fortified soy milk or cheese.
2. PROTEIN: Choose chicken, fish, lean meats, eggs, nuts, peanut butter, beans, or soy products.
3. VEGETABLES: Choose colorful veggies, such as carrots, peppers, or broccoli.
4. FRUITS: Choose fresh, frozen, or canned fruits packed in water or their own juices.
5. GRAINS: Choose whole grains, such as whole wheat bread and pasta, whole grain cereals, whole grain crackers, popcorn, or brown rice.

When planning meals, remember:

1. Healthy fats can be part of a good diet. They include:
 - Olive oil, nuts, avocado
 - Low fat mayonnaise, low fat salad dressing
2. Compare food labels and limit unhealthy saturated fats, trans fats, and hydrogenated oil as much as possible.
3. Limit candy, sweets, and high fat, salty snacks.
4. Remember to eat the healthy foods FIRST!
5. No food is a “bad” food, but it’s important to recognize the difference between everyday foods and occasional treats.
 - Everyday foods should be selected from the five food groups. For example, choose an apple from the fruit food group.

The Importance of Portion Control

Lately, everything is getting bigger, from plates and bowls, to our waistlines. With portion sizes bigger than ever, it's hard for people to know what a serving size is and when to stop eating. Here are some tips to help you keep your portions under control:

- Teach your children portion size by relating food to everyday items. For example, a deck of cards is equal to a serving of meat, fish, or poultry. An apple or serving of fruit is about the size of a tennis ball.
- Eat three meals a day; this will help you eat sensible portions so you won't overeat later.
- Serve food on smaller plates.
- Serve meals at the counter and avoid bringing all the food to the table.
- Skip the "clean plate" club. Instead, encourage your children to start with smaller portions and eat until they are satisfied.
- Avoid eating directly out of the package. Try putting snacks into a small bowl or snack-size baggie.

Healthy Snack Ideas

BEVERAGES

Water
Seltzer
Low fat milk

DAIRY

Yogurt (low fat)
String cheese
Low fat milk
Yogurt smoothie

WHOLE GRAINS

Granola bars (avoid candy-type products)
Rice cakes
Pretzels
Graham or animal crackers

Cereal with or without milk
Popcorn

FRUITS/VEGGIES

Apple slices
Bananas
Fresh strawberries, blueberries, or raspberries
Applesauce
Melon balls
Orange sections
Raisins
Celery sticks with peanut butter
Sliced colored peppers (red, yellow, or green)
Baby carrots or cucumbers with dip

Kids Need Calcium

Children need calcium each day to build strong bones and teeth.

DAIRY FOODS ARE THE RICHEST SOURCE OF CALCIUM:

- Milk, yogurt, cheese.
- Foods made with dairy, such as chowder, pudding, or macaroni and cheese.

IF YOUR CHILD DOES NOT DRINK MILK:

- Read food labels and choose "calcium fortified" or "calcium enriched" foods, such as cereals, graham crackers, juice, soy milk or tofu.
- Offer cheese and yogurt.
- If your child is lactose intolerant, try lactase-treated milk/dairy foods.
- Talk with your doctor or other healthcare provider about a calcium supplement.

Guidelines for Other Healthy Beverages

DRINK WATER—IT'S THE #1 THIRST QUENCHER!

- Try zero-calorie flavored water, seltzer, or sparkling water.
- Naturally flavor your water with a slice of fresh lime, lemon, or orange.

LIMIT 100% FRUIT JUICE

- 1- to 6-year-olds: no more than 6 oz. daily (a little less than a cup)
- 7- to 18-year-olds: no more than 12 oz./day
- If weight control is a problem, you may want to avoid all juice

LIMIT SODA AND OTHER SUGAR-SWEETENED BEVERAGES, INCLUDING KOOL-AID, PUNCH & VITAMIN WATER

Drinks like these should be considered a treat rather than an everyday choice.

AVOID SPORTS & ENERGY DRINKS

When you exercise, you sweat, and when you sweat you LOSE water and minerals. It is important to replace the water you lose when you sweat. Water should be the primary source of hydration, not sports drinks, like Gatorade™ or Powerade™.

Energy drinks are NOT sport drinks and should never be used to replace water. Most Energy drinks, like Red Bull™ and SuperStar™, contain CAFFEINE. Caffeine causes the body to lose water and can sometimes cause anxiety, headaches, stomachaches and sleep problems.

Healthy Tips for Eating in Restaurants

Check out the serving size of your meal. Some restaurants serve enough for 3 people on one plate! If this happens, eat only a portion of the meal and take the rest home for later or share with others.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PORTION CONTROL AT EACH MEAL:

- 3 ounces of protein, such as chicken, lean meat, fish, tofu, or 2 tablespoons of peanut butter
- ½ cup to 1 cup of a starch, such as pasta, potato, rice, or 2 slices bread
- ½ cup to 1 cup of vegetables
- ½ cup or one small piece fresh fruit
- 1 cup milk or 1–2 ounces of low fat cheese

CHOOSE:

- Junior or child size items
- Grilled chicken or fish
- Baked potatoes
- Salads with low fat, non-creamy dressings
- Soups (low fat if is a creamed soup)
- Steamed, baked, grilled or broiled foods
- Ham or Canadian bacon instead of sausage or bacon
- English muffin instead of muffin, donut, biscuit, or pastry
- Tuna fish or chicken salad if made with low fat mayonnaise
- Veggie burger

RESTAURANT FOODS TO SKIP:

- Fried anything (that includes French fries)
- Jumbo, deluxe, or super-sized foods
- Crispy tacos or noodles
- Alfredo/cream sauces
- Egg rolls
- Breaded foods
- Deep dish, pepperoni, sausage, loaded/supreme pizza

Remember, most menus have a low fat or heart-healthy section.
